City Planning Department / Andrew Pasillas
City Planning received a grant for a new planning effort in South LA—the Slauson Corridor Transit Neighborhood Plan. The goal of this effort is to come up with land use strategies for the Slauson corridor as it spans the old rail right of way that is currently being envisioned for a pedestrian/bicycle path by Metro (Rail to River Active Transportation Corridor). Our focus is on creating a land use strategy to improve access to the future Active Transportation Corridor, as well as explore how local employment-related opportunities can be accommodated through land use regulations along the corridor.
